Notable features:

A neat and relatively well-kept row of four houses which suffers from its isolation in the middle of a block -- to the south the vacant land at 1200 W. Fayette, to the north a vacant space at 1203 W. Lexington, in the rear an unfinished modern structure and a trucking firm.

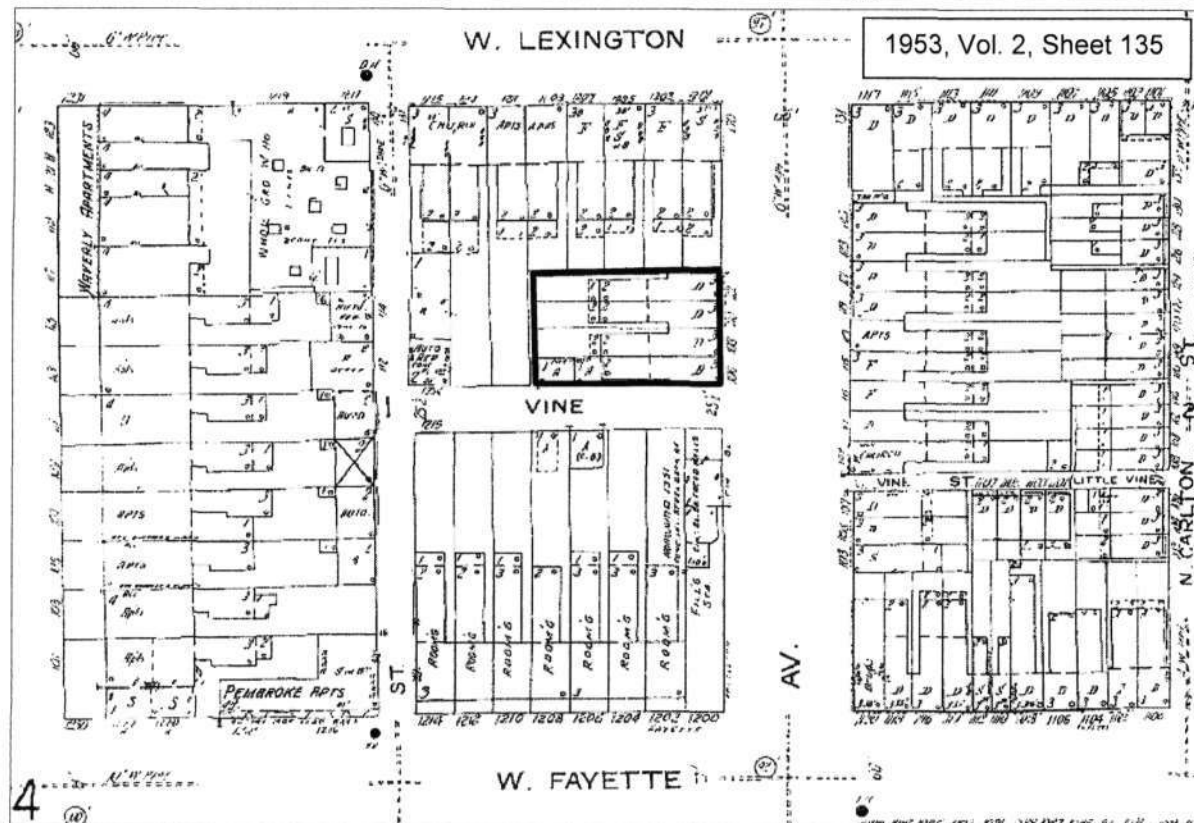

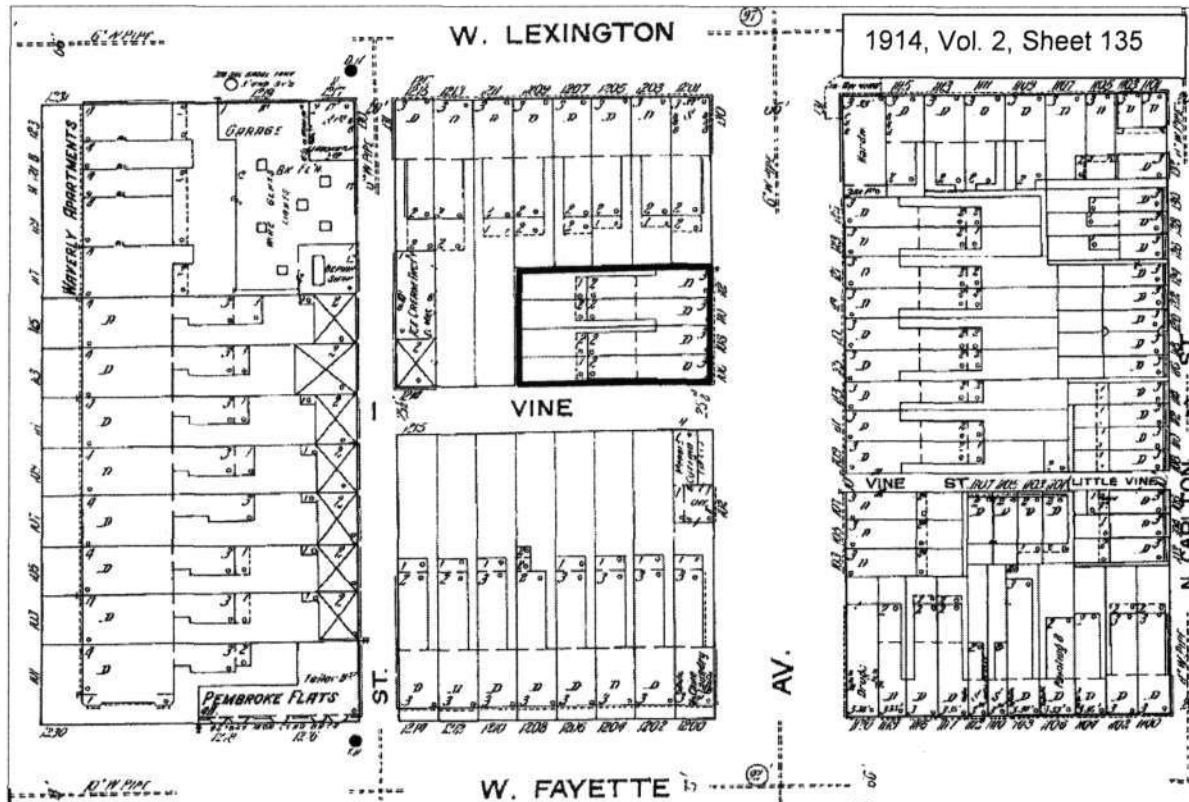

Filigree work in wood lintels and over doors substantiates a relatively late building date. Numbers 110 and 112 retain their original doors. Number 106 has deep back building and promenade porch.

Environmental context:

Wide street with some street trees, needs more. Scale and quality of this group allows it to stand alone.
